Toto - I Won't Hold You Back
Genre: Soft rock, hard rock, symphonic rock

NS stats used for civil rights, economy, political freedom. Other NS stats not used. Nation does not reflect views. Anything I said on forums before 2018 is most likely outdated and inaccurate.

Reverend Bizarre - In the Rectory

*We ride like a patrol of angels within a gloomy black sky.
As the course of our path changes, there is the fire where the butterflies die.
Dirty runes glorify gray stones, relics from the ancient times.*

Reverend Bizarre - The Hour of Death

Remembering the days of joy, not so long ago.

Those memories just increase grief as I watch the withering of beauty.

How can it be that tomorrow she's not here and I remain?

There has to be some kind of way we can be together again...together again.

Doom metal at it's finest.

In Flames - "Ordinary Story"

Melodic Death Metal from the album "Colony" (1999)

♪ *"Egoism dictates human relations
A world where fashion outshines morality
Here success is written in blood-red colours
Designed by the thirst for power"* ♪

Easily in my top 5 In Flames songs; catchy as fuck and has a very truthful message.

I mean, we can actually create a mathematical definition for evolution in terms of the evolutionary algorithm and then write code to deal with abstract instances of evolution, which basically equates to mathematical proof that evolution works. All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.
