Finnegan walks three steps.

Meanwhile,

Woman senses danger in the multiverse, occurring in a thread that is close by the Man thread. She creates a clone of herself and names it, Giselle. She sends Giselle to the No Rules RP universe to help stop the collapse of reality in that thread and stop Supreme Man if possible.

Lord Man is watching as Woman creates Giselle. But he senses something going on in the darkest dimensions of the multiverse.

He heads to one of his favorite spots in the dark dimensions, a field with black grass; but when he lays his back to rest, he finds blood-red writing saying "Tell Woman, Did She Miss Me?"

Lord Man suddenly realizes Master Man is back.

Finnegan: "I have no idea why people think I am divine or whatever. I'm just a normal person like any of you. I'm quite interested in your studies with Mina Sezlet, to be honest."

Meanwhile, a spaceship is sighted near Mina's lab, and it lands on Earth's surface there, piloted by a blue-haired woman who looks a lot like Mina herself. As it turns out, Aila from before is Mina's cousin, and has arrived to investigate the situation.

The Man empire's conquests are abruptly halted by Aila and Mina along with their students at the lab entrance. They then utilize their computer networks to undermine the stability of Finnegan's government.

New man.

New man: "Even though this is technically a dying universe, the "dying" stage lasts far longer than the "peak" stage when it comes to universes."
Aila: "This universe is approximately 105 trillion years old, and star formation has been declining throughout its history. By now, the most massive star in the entire galaxy is a mere 42 M_{\odot} , and nearly a million years has passed since the last supernova."

I'd say this nation is about 85-90% representative to my beliefs. About the only difference between my nation and beliefs is that free markets are effective in a select few situations, and the compulsory organ harvesting is kind of screwed up
