"Well...that's fucking hypocritical of you isn't it? you Shurayu Devil, the dammed devil's kith and kin. Secretary to Lucifer Himself! What kind of being are you supposed to be? with that fucking look of yours you can't even kill a hedgehog with your naked arse! You will not! you son of a bitch! call out a Genetically made Child, because your looks alone are enough to deter demons in hell...Go fuck yer mother!

You Shurayu Scullion, you imbecile wheelright, you Man-Whore of Babylon! an idiot before the very god you serve..you may have done things to better your nation but your arrogance has certainly gone over your head..so for this i say: 'Kiss my ass' ..."

Oxton Arielle Lindall Leslie Vitesse Allison: Fascinating. You talk and rant about how much you really hate hostilities and unfriendly people as a whole, and yet here you are, saying the very worst things that a national leader should not be saying. Even the Type I-minus civilizations that I have interacted with on the whim are not prone to such flights of terribleness! Hmm, at the very least, you indicate that you have such a problem with sociopathic tendencies, so I will give it credit that you are at least trying, unlike the countless septillions of others who does not know about their own limits of being such a hostile entity. You probably don't want to know what happened to them. Either way, my opinion on you is rather mixed - would talk for a while, but ultimately, I have other worlds to attend to and be busy with.

"Chill, Charlie baby, chill. Being in a state of rage make for bad decision making and worse information gathering; you should know better as a military commander and Emperor, of your age too. You're not a teenager, after all, and you seem to be naturally good at everything you do, even from the start. If you get off balance that easily whenever somebody insults your hubby's son, then you are in the wrong line of work.

That being said, I'm real puzzled by your style of governance. Enlightened Despotism updated to a more technologically advanced society, but it sure does seem like a very small world and a highly mobile lifestyle for such a grandiose system. My people wouldn't half-ass it: democracy is a hindrance to efficiency as popularity contests go against qualified specialists' works sometimes, but take my criticism with a grain of salt. After all, your people don't live in metal cans floating in space where insubordination can lead to accidental deaths. From a Utilitarian perspective, you're as right as rain, Mr. Roland...weird, I always imagined royals didn't need surnames...anyways...ehh...my gripe is that what'll happen when you're gone? One great man can't uphold a system, it's only as strong as he is. And he's probably got a low shelf-warranty, under your people's technological circumstances."

"It must be real liberating to not be attached to a specific chain of command, Ms. Tracer. I couldn't picture myself doing some of the altruistic feats you have done, not because as an individual I would not want to help the victims of war or extermination, but because I wouldn't know when to stop and what consequences that'd have, internationally. I've done enough mistakes that have drastically altered the societal development of parties that my people may have not involved themselves with...not directly, at least. As an officer of the Air Domain, I have to follow protocol. That's all. Oh, mad props to get a race of super-powered travelers to bestow onto you such important missions. I got re-assigned to my post. Eh-heh.

Also, the talk of casual time travel is interesting. My understanding of spatial geometries was that only specific loops to the past existed. At least those in a single universe...but the multi-verse probably offers infinite possibilities to do what's right. Or what makes one feel good. And it must be frightening as well."

"To answer your question there Miss Nova..When i finally step down from the Throne, the United Imperium has already voted for Prince Amfeldt to take to the throne when it is time for him to take responsibility. The United Imperium is not just an Enlightened Monarchy..but also an Elective one..

The People have already Voted for my Child to take over when i finally am gone, and if he is incapable of handling the throne then his Sister will take care of it..and if both of them aren't capable, then the people will Elect a person whom they deem have given meritorious actions towards the state..

Think of it as an Elective Authoritarian Democracy.....strange thing to say but...it works, atleast.."

“So there's an alien working somewhere in America, right now as we speak? Wow, I'm thinking Earth is some sort of chick magnet for extraterrestrials to just visit out of the blue for almost no reason. Anyhow, Nova don't look like an Incubator so that's a plus. And if she were, us magical girls will have an enemy we want to totally annihilate more than any other enemy we've faced here. Eh, what the hell am I saying, Nova's one of those "meh" kind of aliens I'm okay with having on earth as long as her race don't have some ulterior motives that involve harvesting our souls to fuel their civilizations. *Kyaku gobbles on a burger. Two burgers* But really I don't get her, why did she stay behind on Earth instead of just, ya know, going home? Earth really ain't the best planet to be with every going on at the moment...oh, wait she doesn't have a gender? ...so they just assign Nova one because she looks female? Well if its official, I will also refer to Nova as a female with the 'she/her' pronouns, not because I care it's just what is legit. *stuffs French fries into her mouth* Oh, and here's one piece of advice from me to her, she's gonna need to pack her things because things are about to get even worse here in the next hundreds of years. And too bad though, I was thinking of going over there and drop by, introduce her to every and all human food, but then I remember Nova is in the United States and the United States don't trust people like me from ever getting close with their 'very important persons'."

"I must confess that I am rather confused by these 'magic-girls.' I do not know what these supposedly.. godlike.. girls are capable of, but it frightens me that such power is given to someone so young. It is certainly an unfortunate history that Kyoko been forced to live through. Her father.. tragic.

Nonetheless, I can't say I approve of these Spartan-like practices. While the Spartans certainly had an efficient society, and one with arguably greater civil liberties for the average person than Athens, I find these policies unsuitable for a modern society. I suppose it is no business of mine to criticize the government a people I am not one of.

I wish her the best of luck, but to stay informed."

Chief Aviator Gwen Tracer Hepburn "Fate of Existence and the Ommiverse" Ellen Trixie Caitlin Foxworthy Avril Verlene Eveline Celinda Sammy Doris T-Rev Oxtan Arielle Lindall Leslie Vitesse Allison: A fascinating life from another world, and wow, finally a human - a non-Valentian, no less, who is taller than 6.5 feet! Typically, I will only see and heard of people who are shorter than 7 feet, or that their universe is just bigger in terms of scales. Like that one world where everyone there was "6 feet" but their feet is twice that of another world, so they are effectively 12 feet. I wonder if it works like that. Anyway, my pondering aside, it is quite a pleasure to meet you, Kinzirû Anšar, 2,022nd Šar of Shuraya. The Akkadian language is one of my favorites, and I actually revived the existence of it in a few worlds; yours is possibly one of them, it would seem! Quite a noble man you are, sacrificing yourself and taking the blunt of the torture and punishment so that your comrades would not get theirs as much. It is still tragic that you have gone through it, and I am even gladder that you have ascended from such a lowly point in your life. I would have comment on substance abuse that you have had since you were young, but I am not going to judge harshly against that - not now, at least. Or... "anything foreign". I do like the miscellaneous facts that you have regarding your life, that was a great read from your dossier - both the genuinely fascinating, and if a bit disturbing. Before you ask, yes I love what you and your friends do in parks, and I bet there is actually a lot of money from their wallets. With that said, until we meet again next time, Kinzirû Anşar. Have a good one!

Answers beyond your wildest imagination? Contact your local Deity to talk to the Fate herself. Or give Fate a phone call. She has a phone too, yknow?

Kinzirû Anšar is certainly a unique person. He certainly has an interesting name, and the fact that his time period is in the 10500's. But with all that comes confusion, which I feel plagues the information provided. What month is "Addaru"? Is 10592 supposed to represent the year of 1992? Why is he even 7'2? Oh, wait, I think sports is the reason for his height. That, age, and time period, mixed with his interesting background, makes for unique vibes when it comes to Kinzirû Anšar. A very unique individual indeed.

Addaru is Adár, but I misspelled it so my bad, the year 10592 represents the year 10592, my universe and it's lore is not based off IRL.

He's 72 because Shurayu are just built that way.
