They have an overseas territory known as "Hatsunian Micronesia" which consists of Mariana Island, Marshall Islands, and Caroline. Hatsunia purchased these from the Spanish in 1899 after their defeat in the Spanish-American War. Today they are a major tourist destination and the natives have equal rights as well.

Lumière du Pacifique (1965)

- Set in the world of TNO in the backdrop of an Axis victory, Lazarie is a former Vichy French protectorate-turned Imperial Japanese collaborationist state in the southern Pacific.
- A kingdom and an odd Francophone among the Co-Prosperity Sphere; it attempts to do its best to maintain its autonomy and quasi-democracy from the empire's hands. Ruled by an Orleanist branch in this Pacific island and the Japanese garrison stands on guard for any "OFN incursion".

Lazarie is something quite unusual in the eastern wing of the Axis bloc - a Francophone island nation lumped in with the rest of the Japanese Empire's co-prosperity sphere. After Japan won World War II, and with its ownership over a vast sphere of influence in Asia and the Pacific, the critically overextended IJA was forced to withdraw, and grant autonomy to Lazarie and presumably other GEACPS territories. As a result, Lazarie's current geopolitical situation is a game of seeing how much independence they can get away with while a single IJA garrison is watching the islands.

The Republic changed name from Killingfer to Hale in 1935 as a tribute to the Hale Family of Australia, where the last governor of the Killingfer colony, Sir Barnabas Hale, ruled during the independence of the colony from the United Kingdom

Their Parliaments are a mess as might makes right seems to dominate parliament over the people's voices. Legislations are hard to get done as MPs prefer to fist fight first then ask questions later.

Napoleon united the French Pacific holdings under one colonial government - the French Pacific Union. Shortly after, the islands' native population were put under slave labour for plantations, and missionaries began erasing the indigenous cultural identity. A tale as old as time, really.

As you might guess, even in the far far future criminal behavior is existent. As the state grows more powerful and allseeing, those less inclined to lawful behavior have retreated to asteroids and manmade spacestations in what is called The Wrack.

They have territories or conduct trade with areas in warmer latitudes, as evidenced by the fact they do indeed have aji peppers as foodstuffs. We approve of this.

In truth, Kiu Ghesik is a primarily clan-based society. It has recently been forced to leave that system of governance grabbed by its bootstraps, but it is not certain yet how it will end, as this experiment only started 30 years ago.
