Nothing particularly terrifying but I'm getting heavy post-S viet state vibes where the same guy has been President for 45 years and renamed the days of the week after his kids.

4/10. Maybe setting up the occasional car bomb. Sometimes a few civilians will probably be killed in the crossfire, but probably not large-scale massacre.

Clearly a vile country. Perhaps they may not show it in their actions, but their intents are to blindly follow temptation against the Lord. 10/10

People tend to assume that Entrance of the Gladiators by Julius Fučík is what that ever so famous circus clown theme is. And in a way, it is. Nobody would ever argue with you on this fact.

However, if you want to be an unlikable, pedantic jerk, the song actually known to be circus music would be a version composed for American woodwind bands (and later transcribed for fairground organs) titled Thunder and Blazes, published by Louis-Philippe Laurendeau.

Of course, this information is of absolutely no consequence to anyone.

It's got a tree in it. And not like some kind of evil tree, it's a perfectly normal happy tree. The blue and white also looks very benign, compared to the stereotypical red and black of evil states.
