Why excuse me? My proud nation will not tolerate your lies. Our nation has made strides to modernization like making the employment rate at 100 percent. Soon we will finish building one of the tallest buildings in the world at 800 meters. Your nation on the other hand is one of the most avoided, not surprising because of the capitalist corruption in your culture. Your insults are so offensive that we will tell our allies to cancel any trade deals with you. Also anyone who visit my nation and is a citizen of your country shall be held PRISONER. our people will burn down any photo or mention of His Imperial Majesty the Emperor of the Imperial Fatherland, Oswald I. Well, sure Oswald is superduper mature, elaborate and articulate, and I am serious. He is articulate. But his rather conservative approach to war has it's flaws, for history had testified many times, that many "War winning wonder weapons" eventually turn from wacky prototypes into a viable weapon, that can give an advantage over the enemies.

First tanks, airplanes, and submarines were considered "Unrealistic" by many. Yes, there are countless outright failures in arms development, but if one fights with "already existing weapons" and forgoes any attempt to develop something principally new, he ends up fighting plasma rifle wielding enemies with bows and spears.

Conservative approach to weapon development, which tries to gradually improve already existing weapons has it's right to live, however, despite it's effectiveness in terms of reduced waste, it may only prolong war and limit the arsenal.

And... he is too traditionalist to actually like us. Maybe Oswald would tolerate us... but that's is. I wouldn't count on diplomatic or trade relations between our nations. But... I still can offer them, because why not?"-Shawn Bjornson

In order to appease public opinion we have just overturned the decision to imprison those who are under Oswald's rule. We have also created a compensation program for all those impacted. We the people of Vu Den Voc are sorry and deeply regret for this terrible act. My committee however is keeping a close eye on Oswald and is considered hostile according to our intel. We do not want other Comrades seeing as a violent and extremist, instead we are prophets of communism and socialism. Oomiya Sakura, the standard of people are great and there is no need for improvement. Our people have freedom of speech, the right to protest, and live better than anyone from Oswald's land. But i digress. Instead we wish to countine military operations and possibly sent people to "colonize" capitalist countries to make them better. Communism cannot work in one nation and instead must spread across the world.

To trade political stability for quality leadership is a very dangerous tactic and for it to have worked so well is a miracle. Windham reflects in his leadership something similar to that of the old kings of the past. But I must say that governing with a thirst for change, although it is a very positive trait, can also be dangerous. "The High Minister is a respectable man. He has served his country as a soldier and now serves it as the leader. Most of his political stances are compatible with my own and so I have no reason to oppose him. He struggles against tyrants and oppressors and we will always support this action"

"i remember the Sultan's kind words fondly when he spoke of me. i am glad to see that he appreciates the way i run things for my people. the same can be said for him in many ways. He follows a lot in his father's footsteps and his devotion to the unity of his people is most admirable. I especially love the fact that he is pro-environmentalism (probably one of the biggest plusses when it comes to my opinions on others). I hold no positive view on corporations, so it is great to see that the Sultan keeps corporations at heel with regulations just as they all should be, considering just how greedy they can get if left unchecked. I could go on for a long time with the many positives I see and i struggle to find any fault with his rule or ideologies. Overall, I view Sultan Arslan with great respect. He cares deeply for his people and is a great example of how a leader should be when ruling their nation."

While I see the sultan has honorable, like you said, for regulating the bourgeoisie, and giving power to the Proletariats , your system of government is outdated. My people cannot help but think of the colonial times when we see your kingdom. We also oppose the religious/ spiritual laws you have in your nation. Other than this, you seem like an ally. You have nuclear weapons, No one shall enter or leave your country, and your people seem quite happy. Comrades the sultan leads a great example of what a true socialist/communist nation should look like.

Our people have also foelisted Platinia for showing hostility towards us. It is disappointing for a fellow comrade to show no respect to us. While our nation of thinking of friendship, it seems to me your a very dangerous leader. However if you officially apologize for are more then welcome to restore our relation to positive. Our people do not want to have cold war or hostility towards one another.

"Such power can only belong to a goddess and yet she is looking for faith? I do not understand why the mortals don't worship her since they are in her domain by her grace. And she has done so much to take care of them like any good goddess, like my magnificent self. While she is a bit more decentralized, we've share many of the most benevolent policies such as removing the corrupt and unworthy from their power, protecting the rights of our mortal subjects, and help them create their own careers. If she truly needs someone else for faith, she could follow mine as we already do things the same way, though I would give her the exclusive right of me not tampering in her domain. From one goddess to another."

Don't meddle in the affairs of dragons for you are crunchy and tolerable with condiments.

A day in the Armada isn't too different from a Star Trek episode if almost everyone in the Federation was a dragon and spiritual.

Trying to collect every NS pokemon card. Almost 630 collected.
