Long-term jail. Humans are only allowed to hurt other mortal species if it's self-defense or to give them a quick death, and breaking that rule is taken very seriously.

we had a similar case to Costa Concordia, where 22 people died. The Captain was sentenced as following:

Slaughter: 20 years (for the code the sentence is 10-20 years)
Abandoning the ship: 5 years (for the code the sentence is 3-5 years)
Cowardice: 2 years. (for the code the sentence is 1-5 years)

So, you can receive a sentence from 14 to 30 years, and the only case registered in Bilancorn was punished with 27 years (he served the full term).

Since AN haven't give a new crime, I will address to AAN first.

Vandalism of public-owned property or perceived public-accessed property (e.g. a private-owned statue fountain in cemetery that is usually seen by public and have became a scenery in town) will be sentenced with repayment to the damage of the property that was given by independent source, fines 0.5 to 5 times of the damage and potential incarceration up to 6 months if the damage is irreparable or the court finds the offender have serious and unforgivable intentions.

Vandalism to private property is considered as "Antragsdelikt" (No trial without Complaint), unless done with other crime (Intimidation, Extortion, Burglary, Arson, Intention to Injure or Murder, etc.). The offender will be sentenced to same punishment listed above, with the fines goes directly to reparation to the victim or the property owner.

For BN: Road Rage that did not cause collision and was not considered as dangerous driving?

(In Canvalland it is a misdemeanor that offender will be required to attend a 12-week public-funded anger management classes, and if found serious or have previous record will also have to complete 20 to 120 hours of Community Services within next 12 months, it will not leave a notation in criminal record after complete the classes and community services.)
