Libriano, can you provide me with some insight about what's going on in your national parks?

Yes, but first I need to be faster so no one ninja on me then I'll edit. Also hello!

Edit: You're referencing that one guy that went hunting in our biggest national park? Okay so the guy disregarded the fact it's not deer hunting season yet, disregarded the fact there are specific hunting places, disregarded his hunting license that states you can't do that and in doing so committed a crime and had to be searched in the National Park that is known for protecting and keeping safe the nation's fauna and flora.
