It turns out the election that put him in power was rigged, and he is jailed for life. However, the Stancija Almaz (a remnant of a former Man's space fleet, revitalized by Putin's team for whatever reason) then passes over and explodes the wall keeping him in jail, and he is beamed out of the cell to meet Aila.

He beats Elon Musk's plans and conquers Mars and manages to gain a foothold in the Moon, before turning his sights back on Earth, particularly the new world war between the USA and China.

Man, realising this, ignores the nuclear fallout on Earth and conquers the galaxy. Except Earth.

The man soon finds a similar stranded woman and marries her while living a beautiful life in Mars.

10 years pass and the war still continues on Earth. China secretly is developing a nuclear bomb that is able to easily win the war. Man cannot let such technology to advance, or Mars may soon be invaded. Thus, he infiltrates in Earth once again and goes to China to assassinate the communist leader "Wei Tao Ping", and succeeds. The USA takes advantage of political turmoil in China and plans a mass scale invasion from India, while simultaneously mobilizing troops to the now "Democratic republic of Thailand" to quickly annex South China. Japan conquers some islands owned by China (China was an empire), thus China drops the first bomb prototype on Japan (rings a bell?), Tokyo to be precise, causing soon the collapse of Tokyo and the loss of almost 10% of Japanese population. Japan, having recovered from the birth crisis in 2024, has a more sparsely distributed population and decides to upgrade nuke detection infrastructure while still fighting on.

North Korea and South Korea, instead, are just little cute puppets. North Korea is mostly aided by Chinese forces and South Korea from NATO. Man, knowing that the nuke development isn't stopped, plans to commit terrorism and get rid of researching facilities with guerrilla attacks. His son in Mars, only a 10 year old but extremely able and intelligent, joins him in this attack.

America seems to be winning, China is being cornered, Russia is losing Moscow and North Korea is starting to collapse. American victory seems inevitable, but then major NATO, EU and other major generals and politicians are assassinated by Man, and soon Man is invading Earth from all sides, particularly Russia, Germany, Britain, France, The eastern coast of the USA, Eastern China, Iran and India are all invaded.

The world war continues; Pyeongyang is overrun with soldiers for the fourth time in 4 years, this time by UN forces. When Man -4 died, his forces scattered, deserting to various sides.

Man's girlfriend made the first advances in the relationship, being in a much higher societal stratum than Man; her goal is to turn Man into one of the elites. She is 15 times older than him, and police on Mars attempt to arrest her. However, they escape Mars and return to Earth, living in the radioactive ruins of Tokyo for a while. The technology previous men developed protects them from radiation.
