Wrote a response just a while ago:

“
Chairman Fahren is just another man that craves to better only himself, while preaching about helping the common class. His a hypocrite, like so many dictators who wave the red flag, they care only for themselves, and use propaganda and education camps to make their subjects believe living in shanty houses is the highest standard of living, while he truly lives in luxury, as his people outside his reinforced walls come to famine, and are set off to fight a mindless ideology-driven war to spread their poverty and torment to the world. My overall assessment is negative.

Rapture City

- In the underwater city, two roles have emerged from the City's ongoing civil war: the City Monitors who defend the peace and the Red Caps who fight against unjust systems. The city's infrastructure is crumbling under its own weight and kinship is snuffed by the paranoia of totalitarianism. Yet the people would be in for a surprise as their virtual overlord have died many years ago as the oppression continues under his name...
- Not an 1-1 exact replica of Bioshock lore and Rapture City. Only the city's atmosphere and setting is maintained.

"So to him bombing and massacring civilians who don't accept his socialist assholeism is not repulsive but me fighting for various nations is? You know what? The Commonwealth definitely did not wrong, I would side with them against revolution. Perhaps his father must have done something to piss off the authorities so he was actually arrested, and rightly executed, justifiably so. Perhaps they should've taken Fahrein too, he's a savage beast when he's in charge of Jiarbin, or any other nation he's invaded with his grubby hands."

"Through Gary, I have seen the entirety of Mercer's floating city of Columbia, and the intense encounters and gunfights he got involved, especially the civil war that unraveled. Arken looks like a good apple separate from all the bad ones that is the entire city of Rapture, nevertheless, he still is one of Mercer's political tools to which the latter can use to further his agendas. Sure, making atoms suspend indefinitely is a great feat I can't deny it. Besides that, other than forcing little atoms to float a city above the air, I'm thinking of heading there to grab Vigors and guns."

AN:

"Ah, yes, doing another socialist dictator after bombing the other to high hell. Quite a classic these autocrats, mass surveillance and purges, we just can't get enough of these bastards can we? Stanislav is right up there with Wiker and Fahrein, two other persons I'll never believe will be good people. If he can try redeeming himself from spilling blood of other political opponents, he can head into a bunker, armed with just a pistol with one bullet in it, and just blast his brains out."

OFFICE OF THE PREMIER

Regarding National President Stanislav Tyrankov of Anyax:

This man truly needs to forget his labels and become who he is. While he states his support for totalitarianism, he condemns fascism simultaneously. He claims to have purged former political elites of his nation, only to then become one and empower the law enforcement system. He claims to not be a pawn in international politics, so instead he becomes a rook for a greater national vanguard. Not often does a leader do so much, yet accomplish so little.

OFFICE OF THE PREMIER

Regarding Captain-General Cassidy G. Pickett.

He's kind of racist. And he's lying with a pornstar. The Redshirts do not have a particularly clean record, either.

In the interest of maintaining our relationship with the American Confederate States, I won't condemn his policies, but plenty more pious folk can tell you exactly where he stands with us. It speaks a lot about the American populists should Pickett remain in power through direct democracy.

"Klara represents the folly of early 21st social-democratic politics. Capitalism with a strong welfare state only creates a large underclass, with more and more of the tax burden being shifted onto the working class. The national self-loathing in the name of racial 'equality' disgusts me, and I find the very idea of equality existing in capitalism to be a farce. Klara's 'equality' is simply to eliminate all the old barriers that capitalists had to their pursuit of profits while having the state and taxpayers compensate for stagnating wages. So in that respect, I am very much opposed to Klara, and she ironically represents the worst of the pre-Partition Progressive Party in my timeline."
