I don't really think you'll like Jesu itself. It's pretty metal at times. Just the creator of Jesu is all into trying weird stuff with his own music {like doing dub remixes}. I mean, he released an EP with a song titled "Christmas", remixed it with his electronic group, and some other group he did, so ☐

Jesu-Walk On Water

Of course when I typed this I got "Jesus walks on water" as a video.

"Rotestilaulu" by Reverend Bizarre

Title in English: "Protest Song"

Cover. This one is 3 times longer (and slower) than the original.

Jesu-Sun Day

I heard this song while falling asleep last night....found it pretty nice.

I noticed Justin Broadrick likes using the echo effect on his weird vocals...a lot.

I know a cover of a Rush song that speeds up the original song by like 2 minutes. I always find the covers that are the most different to be the best. Covers that sound almost exactly the same (Unless the singing is creepily the same) I tend to find just boring.

The same as before..

Listened to that Dir en Grey song, but that post disappeared ☐

And I kinda go wild anyway. Yeah, I went wild with your recommendations, but I'm kind of just going through the entire Jesu discography anyway....and I got sidetracked with like, 3 other groups in the process.

I don't think I've ever had posts disappear because someone disappeared on me...Seems weird.

Unless you got rid of it because I disappeared, even though I apparently didn't really since I saw the post.

I deleted the post myself. What else could've happened?

Nothing

Damn it, my dads not helping me with the getting sidetracked thing.

This band consists of a drummer, bassist and saxophonist.....and that's it. Though they've had a lot of collaborators.

Trentemøller - Moan

My nation DOES NOT reflect my political views. The interplanetary-level Federation government is libertarian only for realism purposes, and functions more like a confederation. Since it has such a large territory to manage, the federal bureaucracy can only provide the bare essentials efficiently, while most other decisions are devolved down to the planetary governments.
