Five prominent civil leaders by the names of Gabriel Creslon, Johnathan Barclay, Arthur Albert, Mary Albert, Eleanor Garrick formed the "Gang of Five" in response to increasing British Authoritarianism following the American Revolution. The first of these five, also the former of said group and the future first prime minister of the country, is where their nation's name originates from.

That the rather depressing Brutalist style of architecture dominates Kronova, which I suppose is rather fitting, all things considered.

North Germany covers a total of 7,962,443.25 square kilometers and has an estimated population of 93,376,500, though only 436,708.89 square kilometers of it is the Realm's "Metropol", which hosts 56,500,000. North Germany comprises of five Kingdoms, 3 Grand Duchies, 8 Duchies, five Principalities, three Free and Hanseatic Cities, one Free City, and one Capital City, as well as three Dominions, two Colonies, and one Settlement.

Those are very precise measurements of land and they are descended from the German confederation.
They also have a whole dossier of nations in it's timeline.

The Tâgrâ Language is the archaic liturgical language used by the Temples of Zûn throughout the Kamat realm. It is neither mutually intelligible with nor related to the Ariyâ vernacular language spoken by the general population; it's relationship to other Elysian languages is as of yet unstudied. As it is no longer a spoken language, there are no records of dialectal variations or regionalisms within Tâgrâ.

In 1918, Western Wawakanatote experienced severe famine due to chronic food shortages. The famine was ultimately blamed on rich peasants called "kulaks." In response to the famine, the government seized much of the kulaks' wealth for redistribution. The program was met with violence from the peasantry, nearly causing a revolution in the country.

"During the one-party era between 1930-1987, the constitutional structure of the government resembled a bourgeois, federalist system. This included the office of a President, who governed much like Western counterparts. However, with the establishment of multi-party democracy in 1987, the constitution was restructured to better represent the Socialist ideal."
