We don't even have officer ranks, all leadership of the military by anyone other than the Great Farmer (who is the Commander-In-Chief) is unofficial and only exists for the purpose of stability.

What we do have is soldier ranks; the maximum you can get is Sergeant, Sergeants acts as unofficial Officers in this regard.

At least I'm a variation of the "additional items on flag" trope. Besides, who else can claim to have Dean Martin doing a drive-by with a M3 Grease Gun from the bed of a Chevy SSR? Crron, tell me someone else that has that.

Edit: hold on, the gun's actually an MP40... Still, I have the ELO spaceship.

A traumatized, but recovering, MT-PMT constitutional monarchy consisting of a personal union of Prussia and Poland. A land of rampant gun ownership, governmental schizophrenia, militias with enough heavy weapons to turn an armored division into a badly-shaken battalion of light infantry, and terrified USAF personnel counting down the days until they rotate back home.

Weaponization rate(14 weapons per person) and crime rate(1.77 crimes per hour) both canon. Cry about it.

A while baaack, for Las Palmeras, I had dual wielding Gangsta Madoka over a City Pop album skyline an another one of an unnerved Madoka with an Uzi over a Hotline Miami-esque poster.

Self-plug, as Valentine Z would say, but I think my most popular waifu flag (used in a defunct puppet) is the darkest "joke" I've ever made. Not the funni or suggestive ones.

Why would you be so petty as to repeatedly declare how much you hate a simple artistic choice is the real question.

Well, my drive-by thing is a composed image. Because of course an SSR couldn't have existed around the time Dino was young and alive. But still, a massive props for beating me to the punch.

I'm sorry that you feel offended about my Saturday Night Live tier joke, Saucer Pilots. To file a "get more funny" complaint, please contact me at the earliest possible convenience so that we may negotiate better funny joke times.

In reality, what I said was an in-character/in-canon viewpoint of each and every country that uses this sort of trend. I OOCly do not care for it, as there is literally someone that I RP with that does the same thing. However, seeing it multitudinously in F7 kind of comes off as repetitive.

A cliché or trope, you might say.

Not exactly. Hierarchies were far looser in the pre-nation days for both the USSR and PRC, where guerilla fighters and revolutionary armies were more devolved and gave more independence to individual units even at division level. The problem comes after the state is formally established.
