They're known for being more of an anarcho-corporatist state.

Pretty damn known. If you have ever been on F7, then you have probably seen them.

I know the AN. But how is AN well known?

It's simple, I made a mathematic equation to determine what other people thought about LC based on their interactions and regions where LC was, so after weeks of work I came to the conclusion that AN is well known in some regions but due to not being in F7 that much and only been here for at least 5 days in F7 I can say for sure that Loli County it's still not known in the forums, but in the regions, LC has been its known, oh! I forgot to mention that inflating cards, so they must be known a little in the trading cards family
