- The Twin Queens

For the Twin Queens being elves, they are all too human in my eyes. All too aware of the flaws in their personalities, and too eager to make the most of what they have. I understand their motivation: they want to do everything that is required to keep their queendom and its inhabitants safe. However, that does not mean that I will approve in every aspect of its government. Death is a horrible thing to think of, especially when you consider the amount of lives that have been lost in this country and the amount of refugees would surely leave its borders.

- Kaiser Grimbert IV

AN: Victor Vonstein appears to be more than what he claims to be. He should have known better than to put his faith in something so easily manipulated. Plus, the reports suggest that he is in fact the same figure in pre-existing myths that pop up at various points in history. How curious.

Rapture City

- In the underwater city, two roles have emerged from the City's ongoing civil war: the City Monitors who defend the peace and the Red Caps who fight against unjust systems. The city's infrastructure is crumbling under its own weight and kinship is snuffed by the paranoia of totalitarianism. Yet the people would be in for a surprise as their virtual overlord have died many years ago as the oppression continues under his name...
- Not an 1-1 exact replica of Bioshock lore and Rapture City. Only the city's atmosphere and setting is maintained.

out of ideas or was distracted by his less than desirable hobbies, the latter is perhaps the most likely. Moving on, like my first statement, your rise in the political theater is vague and needs expanding. I wish to know more about how you got the highest office in the Ignis States. Next off, your stance on expansion is understandable, your civilization is always growing and you need more resources to maintain the population or risk famine, unrest, and all other nasties if you don't stretch out towards the stars. Equal marriage is of no concern from me. It should not be an issue on who marries who, it doesn't affect anyone and no being around a gay couple won't turn your kid gay. That's just absurd. Honestly, I don't get why cosmic entities like to put those thoughts in mortals' heads. Environmentalism this is grandiose, as a civilization, you must take care of your resources and the beauty of your lands if don't you will suffer Mother Nature's wrath. Don't anger her, I did. I still regret it this very moment. Lastly, well, ruling in the name of the Republic but as a dictatorship, huh. Not sure, how this exactly works. But I assume, it's in Rapture's case with adding "Republic" just sounds nicer, instead of just saying "Rapture" and not "Rapture Republic", yeah, I guess so. It does roll off the tongue better than just using the actual name of the country. Last, of the last, all your pros and cons are good for the most part but I wish to know, why do you have issues with other mortal races, the Jews? What have they done? And why has the creator program you to hate them? I don't get it. Perhaps, I should but I really don't.

His name literally comes from tyranny, but his quotes are quite interesting and meaningful. His childhood looks hard and he must have suffered a lot of troubles due to his poorness. His policies are interesting and more important, they are working; the economic part is shared amongst my views of an state, which should have a choice between what to export or import. But there is one policy that I consider really excessive, and it is the massive surveillance thing, with people beeing monitorized everywhere with ID chips, this can be dangerous for everyone.

"Curiously I could not find the info on their current leader, but if his fore fathers are anything to go by he must be an impressive individual, I would like to find out more about him but there just seems to be not enough data. At the very least it seems that his nation have both a strong military and a steady growing economy"-Kaiser William

IC: do not use the 2 in our name

Reading my old posts (especially from when I first started) is a cringe inducing horror fest.

Man do I feel icky now for larping as an Imperialistic Alt-Russia

His life story is pretty boring, not gotta lie. Except for the part with beating an idiot, who's name I've just forgotten. Anyway his leadership is pretty generic with the same "progressive" legislation, he decreed as Emperor, and the foundation of a regional union is nothing new, when looking at the EU. I guess all I can say now is I wish him a prosperous reign and perhaps see myself being interviewed by him. Looks to be a Lovecraft fanboy judging by

Rapture City

- In the underwater city, two roles have emerged from the City's ongoing civil war: the City Monitors who defend the peace and the Red Caps who fight against unjust systems. The city's infrastructure is crumbling under its own weight and kinship is snuffed by the paranoia of totalitarianism. Yet the people would be in for a surprise as their virtual overlord have died many years ago as the oppression continues under his name...
- Not an 1-1 exact replica of Bioshock lore and Rapture City. Only the city's atmosphere and setting is maintained.

"Have we met? I hope you won't be offended if I can't remember... I've never been too great with faces. There's just so many of them, and they're all so damn high up. I swear to god I'm going to break my neck trying to look you people in the eyes one of these days, yeah? Fortunately, that's the only downside. It's always a pleasure to meet another comrade from General Valentine's little corner of the world, and I don't see why Ms. Adriana should be any different. I'm sure Clarissa's taught her well."
