Janie Jones Soundtrack-Abigail Breslin and Alessandro Nivola-Find Love.

I don't even know why I've been digging this song so much recently. It's by far not my favorite song ever, but I keep listening to it on repeat. I love relaxing, chill songs, so it's probably just because of that. It's definitely my favorite song from the movie.

It's strange too, because the movie is also one of those movies I wouldn't rate my favorite movie either, but it's a movie I don't mind watching a few times, and I'm not one for re-watching movies that much. Hell, I've probably watched it more than a few movies I've rated an 10 (I saw it twice). It's kind of like the movie Push, where I can watch it about 2 or 3 times without it really getting old for some reason, despite the fact it's definitely not the best movie ever.

I asked the question again after 15 minutes and the actual answer took roughly 30 seconds.

It's so they have an excuse to drink and can get catholics riled up to the point where they attack them and can get away with assaulting them en masse.

Also I guess they have a military fetish or something? It's pretty sad.

De La Rarete La, Parween.

we, unlike the bourgeoisie, have nothing to lose and therefore our expression will be the only honest one, our words will be the only challenging ones and our art will be the one revolutionary expression. We need new noise and new voices and new canvases to become something more than the last poets of a useless generation.
