Rapture City

- In the underwater city, two roles have emerged from the City's ongoing civil war: the City Monitors who defend the peace and the Red Caps who fight against unjust systems. The city's infrastructure is crumbling under its own weight and kinship is snuffed by the paranoia of totalitarianism. Yet the people would be in for a surprise as their virtual overlord have died many years ago as the oppression continues under his name...

Chief Aviator Gwen Tracer Hepburn "Fate of Existence and the Omniverse" Ellen Trixie Caitlin Foxworthy Avril Verlene Eveline Celinda Sammy Doris T-Rev Oxtan Arielle Lindall Leslie Vitesse Allison: I swear I don't remember Mr. Ryan being different... or being a bit more of a wimp. Huh, must have jumped through a different dimension... Haha, I kid, I kid! Fate's not the one to judge people based on their appearance, but rather... by their opinions and political views. And I shall indeed say that I am more or less neutral, or positive for that matter, towards this man. Hard to believe that such a kindered and heartfelt soul is somehow linked and used to work with Mercer. Hmm... good entry as well, but I must say that "Ryan's experiences under Soviet rule led him to his personal philosophy: the modern world was created by great men who strove to make their own way. Any time "Parasites" gained control of such a world, they destroyed it. As a boy in 1919, he fled to America, believing it to be a place where a great man could prosper, just before Belarus and multiple other countries such as Ukraine and Russia formed to create the Soviet Union in 1922. He anglicized his name to Andrew Ryan." was repeated twice. Tsk tsk, Fate wouldn't have such a thing going around!

Answers beyond your wildest imagination? Contact your local Deity to talk to the Fate herself. Or give Fate a phone call. She has a phone too, yknow?

I do not care for which of us is stronger, she has not attacked Lowblood or me. So we will do the same. And while I do think ill of those that watched over our wars, I do not let it change my opinion as I never fell hard enough to ask.

Perhaps we are friends." -The first king

Ah, I have heard of a war involving Low Bloods, now Artemis Prime, and Rapture ruled by my successor, Chancellor John Mercer. It was quite a disappointment to see my creation being operated as a tool of war, along with declassification that it was a false flag for petty yet bloody imperialistic gains. Regardless, it's over, and I commend the King for coming to the table leading to our countries to come together, and correct the wrongs of the past. Despite my friend, Mercer having zero interest in granting independence to the Low Bloods. With the only option being cooperating with the empire as a member state rather than a colony of "low bloods" it was a tough choice. Overall, the King strikes me as an ambitious ruler who is determined to ensure the prosperity of his country, and during the troubled and forgotten times. My assessment is positive.

"How unfair of Herr Ryan to call other people "parasites" when they possess their own motives but also do not live up to his expectations. If anything, Herr Ryan himself has become the parasite; his own creation falling into lawlessness and decay and only to have hired guns to deal with the rabble rousers, escalated into a massacre in the process. I believe it was better for him to remain dead than live to see his own city turn on itself again."

liberalism while I championed over my countrymen with the assurance of total victory against the enemies of this mighty Fatherland. Different worlds, different times, different persons, but what we share is a common tongue and a culture. While it would be easy for me to say something so supportive towards Herr Hartmann, our opposite beliefs say otherwise, and frankly I don't believe in his liberal approaches.
