Legal if done in public property, fined if done in private property, potentially arrested (maximum 18 months in prison, no minimum) and fined even more if done persistently in private property, despite explicit instructions to stop.

Depends on the Severity. If it is not serious, then no harm. If it is serious, then a temporary ban (if it has small effects) to fines will be placed on the user. If the Threat comes into action then the Person is jailed depending on the Crime. If it is like Shoplifting, then a small stay in Jail. If it is like a major shooting or a terrorist bombing, it can be a Life Imprisonment without any chance of Parole.
