Lolita was published in Sanghyeok's universe, and people have called Oomiya Chairwoman Lolita as a result. So her people think she's a loli.

The player can be rather wordy, but the effort's significant.

Also, the people of the tribe-entity (for lack of a better term) depicted seem rather informal, and their target of worship is basically Tengri-as-a-Mommy.

There could be apparently an anecumene os spiritual world in the cosmological sense of the Ghes people but not a metaphysical one in the Abrahamic sense. The Sky mother is a very active agent in a very physical world; after all, her will exerts influence on nature itself.

AN: Imperial Japan not only controls the entire world as has been warned and prophesied by Japan-bashers from the 1980s, their multiversal derivatives have done the same as well.

I thought monke was just a turn of phrase but no, they're actual apes. Which is a refreshing change of course from Techno Space Communism Nation 396, and not nearly furry enough to count as furry.

A former British military outpost, which was laid claimed to by a long-deceased RAF veteran. Occupied by a tea-loving Yank and her British friend who are exiles from the United States, who invited foreign investments to flow into the island. Which by 2023, eventually turned into a Free Market Socialist paradise with its society being perpetually stuck in the 1960s but in a good way. That's at least what I gathered from breezing through their 'in a nutshell' factbook.

Hello, man of culture. I really like the 90s Guns n' Cats OVA too.

Wow, Rally Vincent really went off the deep end after so many years of facing crime in Chicago, so much that she ditched her no killing rule, joined the US Military -specifically the Navy- and took course of US politics for herself to combat the federal republic's internal fragmentation. Man, I'm gonna be disappointed if Minnie May doesn't have a job in this new order.

They basically are a colony which will become such next year, an UK dominion no less too. And to note, before 1986 the isles were uninhabited.

AN uses the rare semi-presidential system, with a lot of power concentrated in the hands of the President. Healthcare is guaranteed as a right by the constitution.

So the leader, Rally Vincent, leads a bunch of CIA operatives to take over the USA. And after fighting room to room, for several HOURS, in the White House with apparently no support coming to the PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES, the President is killed and Vincent takes over.

But then the Boogaloo Bois take over all the local offices... instead of, I don't know, the power plants or the large scale industry and transportation? And so Vincent blows them all up with F-35s. Apparently every member of the military pledges support to the MAN WHO JUST SHOT the President and the B-Bois all die.

...she has a MATH DEGREE.

The people of Kiu Ghesik aren't just tribal nomads, the entire world they inhabit is (seemingly) pre-industrial as the concept of an "Empire" is only in it's early stages.

The enemy is not one prefixed enemy, but is what a subject or a cause is classified as if the empire perceive it as a threat.
