They ask that "God Save Our Majesties' Red Holy Dragons", in Japanese.

Could be a rallying cry, a theme of their culture, the last wish of a dying heroine, a plea from the common farmers beseeching some deity to set things right.

Really neat.

I assume since the primary banner, the moai from Easter Island means that they are a pacific islander nation. The banner being an ancient monument also explains that they are very primitive, or they value culture and tradition greatly.

It's 2035, 62 years have passed since the world became a nuclear wasteland. The world became ruined through the efforts of Southern rebels in the United States. Who, after losing the 1972 Presidential Election to Senator Kennedy capture nuclear weapons and activate them. The hours after this see a nuclear exchange between the Soviets and the US over miscommunication. Luckily most of the Federal Government had managed to retreat to bunkers across the country. Decades later they have now returned to give America a second chance.
