Long live the Republic of Texas, where the Alamo still stands and cowboys roam. We're not all Cowboys though, we have cities like in our banners, with the city of Austin being our capital.

A very busy commercial nation focused on innovation, but not caring much for the have-nots.

Also Astoria is clearly a nation of joyful furies that harnessed Fusion Energy to allow them to keep manufacturing advanced objects while living in a pristine environment.

A beauty to behold, in terms of how effectively they cared for their environment while aiming towards progress.

Rapture City

- In the underwater city, two roles have emerged from the City's ongoing civil war: the City Monitors who defend the peace and the Red Caps who fight against unjust systems. The city's infrastructure is crumbling under its own weight and kinship is snuffed by the paranoia of totalitarianism. Yet the people would be in for a surprise as their virtual overlord have died many years ago as the oppression continues under his name...
- Not an 1-1 exact replica of Bioshock lore and Rapture City. Only the city's atmosphere and setting is maintained.

Theocratic Catholic state? Though the depiction of Thomas More makes me almost interpret it as being similar to the society described in his book Utopia.

Monarchy of some description, likely constitutional? Heavy emphasis on formality, vibrant aristocratic culture and strong diplomatic-military history.
