we, unlike the bourgeoisie, have nothing to lose and therefore our expression will be the only honest one, our words will be the only challenging ones and our art will be the one revolutionary expression. We need new noise and new voices and new canvases to become something more than the last poets of a useless generation.

After downloading it onto my new computer, the □□□□ OST. I love the dark ambiance used to set the mood and compliment the atmosphere of the game.

MAZE ft Frankie Beverly - We Are One. In other words, the real music of my people, not the "Lil Wayne's" of this age.

"The Nixon campaign in 1968, and the Nixon White House after that, had two enemies: the antiwar left and black people. You understand what I'm saying? We knew we couldn't make it illegal to be either against the war or black, but by getting the public to associate the hippies with marijuana and blacks with heroin, and then criminalizing both heavily, we could disrupt those communities. We could arrest their leaders, raid their homes, break up their meetings, and vilify them night after night on the evening news. Did we know we were lying about the drugs? Of course we did."—former Nixon domestic policy chief John

Using the term "real music". It's arbitrary and inaccurate, even though you used it in a different way than most people I call out on using it do.
