Life imprisonment. The main reasoning is due to the use of excessive force in a non-life-threatening situation, making this case classified as murder underneath Dakaristani law.

Considered attempted murder, likely first-degree owing to being "intentional", which has a minimum sentence of 25 years and a maximum of life with possibility of parole.

The Sith Empire is a force of dominance, an authoritarian state forged from militarism, totalitarianism, and the dark side of the Force. United under a single Empress, her Dark Council and by the Empire's Wrath, ruled by the Force-sensitive members of the Sith Order and supported by 30 trillion loyal citizens, the Empire forsakes the freedoms offered by the Republic in favor of strength and order. The Sith Empire will stop at nothing to become the greatest power in the galaxy. Although an uneasy truce has settled over the galaxy, the Empire does not sit idle. From its capital of Dromund Kaas, Imperial high command exerts total control over the worlds it has conquered, rebuilding its forces to once again to march on the enemies of their Sith overlords.

Unless done in self-defence, this case would likely be considered attempted murder and be punished the same as murder, wherein the accused is liable on conviction to imprisonment for life.

Depends more on what happens after eavesdropping or how you were doing it. Breaking into a secure communication feed will definitely land you some serious charges, selling what you hear to others will make your already treasonous crimes worse until you are executed. But hearing casual, public conversation and then keeping it to yourself? There's no crime.

Purposely walking into traffic to commit insurance fraud.
