According to our law of Partial Freedom of Speech, it is fine to as long as they do not insult Christianity or related topics.

Reformationist Christianity is the best :D

Canon in most things. Examples of exceptions are some policies (due to glitches).

Skipping AN due to forgetting the second half of their sentence.

There is no crime for insulting the national flag, though not everyone will appreciate what you said.

I think the closest thing to this for us is exiling an Assassin (most likely for illegitimate reasons—it's supposed to be a crime, after all).

And, well... that didn't go well for the perpetrator. So I suppose "death", then.

Dueling?

Dueling?

If one of the participants are guaranteed to be seriously injured, then both participants can be given a 250 fine in USD. If it is involuntary dueling, the person who commenced the dueling initially can receive up to two years in prison; five years if the other is seriously injured; and life in prison if the other is killed.

If one of the participants are knowingly guaranteed to be killed, the killer receives life without parole.

/reserved DEFINITION:

To reserve a post as to prevent being ninja'd. This is especially useful for having posts that may take effort or a good portion of time to make, as there is a greater chance of such things being ninja'd than a slash and a word. Only practical in some threads compared to others. The idea is to put /reserved first and edit it once you have a proper answer. As such, you are not ninja'd. BN will do you as long as you eventually edit your /reserved into a proper post.

Probably 25IR fine for minor assault. If it was unintentional. Then no punishment.

Using brass knuckles in self-defense?

Not a crime, as long as the person defending themselves doesn't continuously beat the assailant to death.

AAN: 6 months for possession of a firearm and fine of probably 1000 marks.
Conviction will depend on the circumstance. Purely defensive stances will result in no punishment, but unreasonable 'defense' could lead to a conviction, perhaps up to a decade of prison and even more of rehabilitation camps.
AN: 5 years in prison and 30-year restraining order

Purchase of unlawful substances

Unintentionally? A heavy, heavy fine. Probably a short stay in the slammer, too. Intentionally? If anyone dies, execution. If no one dies, a very long time in prison.

A fine of up to 350$ for reckless driving and speeding and a possible temporary suspension of the license. Assuming that you ran over someone, it could mount into reckless injury or voluntarily manslaughter which can land in prison for 15-20 years.
