Anyway, The Kekistani government condemns the Mongols for mercilessly invading nations that stands in it's path and calls the International Community to do something against them, and before the Mongol armies can reach Kekstantinople, Kekistan capitulates, several government figures fleeing to Bavaria, and Kekistan is now under a provisional government established by the Mongols.

(Where is Kekistan, ik one of their territories is in Georgia)

Using Kekistani troops in Georgia, the Mongols launch a front in the caucasus, attracting the Armenians to join them in a bid to reclaim Eastern Anatolia + Lands in Azerbaijan (and incorporating Armenia into the Mongol Empire), and conquers the Northern Caucasus region, Azerbaijan now stands alone and surrenders after Kekstantinople surrenders to Mongolia, giving them access to all of Iran.

Anyways the Mongols invade Iraq and Kuwait and sacks Bagdad again, and then annexes the nation, they now aim for Syria, Turkey and the former Russian lands

MBTH, being a former client state of Kekistan, decides to help the now former government figures to overthrow the Mongol government in Kekistan. They settle on a coup and escort the former government into Kekistan, but soon The Mongol government, with the help of the Mongols themselves, find out their hideout (which is in the Gilan province of Iran). In turn, The former Government and their escorts (about 250,000 MBTH soldiers) declare all of Gilan province as "The free Territory of Kekistan", a currently un-recognized state seeking to free Kekistan out of the hands of the Mongols.

Stratocratic-Anarchy Oceanic Empire wrote:
After the definitely not wasted meeting,

Supreme Man teleports back to Earth. As he flies across the Labrador Sea heading back to Greenland, Supreme Man is hit by a missile from a Catgirl combat drone UCAV. Supreme Man lifts up his hand and closes it into a fist which causes the drone to explode in a flurry of fire (Supreme Man can use telekinesis). However, his senses detect thousands of more combat drones all around him

As he swings his fists around and uses energy blasts to take down the combat drones. His senses pick up something else. The Halo Theme plays loudly all around him. What is happening?

At this point he lets the drones ram into him which don't damage him because he is a multiversal god. His curiosity is intensified. Why is there Halo music playing?

And then a figure teleports in front of him. Chimichanga. Of the former Burrito Republic.

"Hmph," Supreme Man mutters. "You are hard to kill, Burrito Chimichanga. How about this. I will give you a seat with me to guide the Multiverse to its greatest potential. There will be no more divisions. No more hardship. And no more death and chaos. Together, we will do glorious things. Join me."

But Burrito Chimichanga shakes his head. "You slaughter zillions for nothing. Instead of protecting the Multiverse as you created yourself to be, you are destroying it. And now we will do all we can to stop you. You killed my people in utter cold blood. We will have no mercy on you." Then as Burrito lunges towards Supreme Man to try and punch him, he disappears into dust.

Supreme Man smiles. "You're teleportation skills are good. But it won't be enough."

Supreme Man braces himself to chase after Chimichanga but sees a massive armada of ships of the Algerbil Alliance approaching him. He sends a telepathic message to the Catalan Council of Freedom in Nuuk to not send any support units for Supreme Man. He wishes to fight the Algerbil Alliance in the Labrador Sea of the Atlantic alone. He wants to see how much resolve these puny weaklings have.

The background music changes to literal battle music (use your imagination and choose which song you think would fit the battle) and Supreme Man becomes a glowing figure in front of the Algerbil Armada.

Supreme Commander M'yri'ah of the Catgirl Republic orders for the first strike on Lord Veermaa Abelló II aka Supreme Man. "Fire!" she calls. And immediately a massive barrage of missiles from the armada chase after Supreme Man.

Supreme Man laughs irrationally and he quickly forms a hundred-layer electronic shield around him. The missiles do basically nothing to the shield. But a barrage from a large Capuchin-based battleship fires a powerful shell at Mach 28 which damages half of the shield. Supreme Man is impressed but it's barely enough to scare him. And so he lifts the battleship utilizing telekinesis which shocks the entire fleet. However, Myri'ah is still willing to continue the fight.

"Deploy the 'craft!"

Hundreds upon hundreds of fighter jets, helicopters, attack jets, stratosphere aircraft, and versatile spacecraft throw themselves towards Supreme Man. They travel at gusting speeds but Supreme Man isn't impressed. Instead, he drops the Capuchin battleship he was lifting up and focuses himself on the fight with the aircraft. Naval artillery from all the warships fire on Supreme Man, but they barely do a scratch on him.

Supreme Man creates himself a hundred arms in a second. And proceeds to stretch these arms beyond infinity. The aircraft have a hard time maneuvering out of the way of the bundle of arms and many of them crash and become balls of fire when they hit the arms. Supreme Man laughs and then begins mentally manipulating the pilots, which causes many of them to start attacking the Algerbil Alliance fleet. The fleet, however, continues to fight strongly.

The fight continues for hours. Supreme Man consistently makes fun of Myri'ah and the rest of the Algerbil Alliance as he taunts the warships and continuously manipulates mentally the minds of some of the officers. Many of the officers have throbbing headaches from the battle because of Supreme Man's constant manipulation of the mind.

However, a message arrives for Myri'ah after she orders another barrage of jets to staff attack Supreme Man to divert his attention away from the fleet.

HELP IS COMING

Detection systems detect a powerful energy signature coming from the South Atlantic.

Myri'ah smiles.

The atmosphere suddenly changes into a purple glow. Supreme Man is shocked. His eyes gaze sternly in front of him.

Chimichanga and Uno Reverse Savior stand face to face with Supreme Man. But something else shocks Supreme Man.

"Master Man?!"

Supreme Man eyes his apprentice in shock. He was alive! "What are you doing here, Master Man?! You were dead one second and now you're here!"

Master Man smiles. "I learned your tricks. How to pull off illusions. Meet Giselle, the clone of my former apprentice Woman."

A woman hovers next to Master Man with a blazing purple aura and amethyst-colored eyes. She smiles.

"I know everything about you Supreme Man. This collapse of reality you wish to bring will not come to pass. Your belief in committing genocide to bring a new order to the multiverse will not happen. This universe will now remain under our protection. The Gods of Reality."

Supreme Man is furious. "This sentient burrito Chimichanga isn't a god! So how can you claim he is one."

"A god doesn't need to be powerful, Supreme Man. Look at the Capuchin for example. Anyhow, Chimichanga absorbed the powers of his Burrito people who were filled with the essence of the now long gone Burrito God. He is now the successor to the Burrito God. So that makes him a god."

In a gaze of fury. Supreme Man leaps at Giselle. But Uno Reverse Savior leaps in front of Giselle and punches Supreme Man hard, knocking him back two miles and shocking Supreme Man.

Giselle smiles. "Gods of Reality. Algerbil Alliance. Let's do this."

Epic fight time.

No, it's clearly not yours, you didn't even write the thread, you did not come up with the idea for this thread, you did not make the maps, you are nothing but a participant. But, you have proven yourself to be very problematic, so we have every right to void your posts, nearly everything you wrote in this thread can be considered as threadjacking, and consider yourself as the luckiest person in this entire website for not getting kicked in the ass by the mods.

Stop this, or I will take matters on my own hands.

Your posts were quoted before you could delete them. If someone is breaking the rules, report them, don't huff and puff and act all tough about how you could report them. That's called "using the Mods as a weapon" and it's against the rules.

Also, don't try to act like you're a miniature version of a Mod in a thread. If you are the OP of an RP then you have the right to set the rules and kick people out, but you can only do so as an OP, not with red text and Mod-like tone or threats. And if you're not the OP at all, you shouldn't be trying to dictate things period.

Knock it all off.

You could also stand to not be purposely antagonistic. If the OP doesn't want you behaving a certain or doesn't want you in the thread at all, respect that.

Both of you need to dial down the chest-beating and drama before this escalates to actual warnings.

Just coming back from the Lunar King's party, Capuchin-Alpha is just passing Mars when a bright light shines through the window. He looks outside in first curiosity, and then horror.

Deimos has crashed into Mars, all but decimating the homeworld of the Catgirls, the Na'l'xiso, and many others. Capuchin-Alpha's ship was the first to land on the doomed planet, but was only able to evacuate some government officials in the Catgirl Capital. Immediate rescue efforts would soon arrive from Catgirls and Capuchins in the Asteroid Belt and on Phobos.

The ship performed an in-system jump from Martian Orbit to Earth, and dropped a powered-armor-encased Capuchin-Alpha on M'yr'i'ah's location.

He chitters somberly, and his suit translates for him.

"Mars has fallen. We are doing what we can, and now I shall do what I must. How can I help you to stop this madness?"

In the city of New Tenochtitlan (Mexico City), a man walks in the middle of the jungles and arrives at the Temple. He is amazed by his discovery and looks for the ancient writings of the Aztec Gods, that was lost in the conquering of Montana of the city. Unbeknownst to him he fell on a trap and got himself captured by the natives who did not spare a second to do a sacrifice to please their gods.

Meanwhile Africa starts demanding Independence from Byzantium, protesting peaceful until someone said the forbidden words "Waka waka eh eh, tsamina mina zangalewa, 'cause this is Africa" and millions of people start to become aggressive towards the Byzantines, as if like a primitive feeling came out of them without them noticing starting the wars of Independence for Africa

Hungary invades Austria to reverse the roles of the Austro-Hungarian Empire and create the Hungarian-Austrian Empire
