I couldn't help the man in the Lego-City river.... I wake up every night, seeing him outside my apartment... on the porch just staring at me...

After the river tragedy, 1 man was declared with a coma while in the transport to the hospital on a helicopter. It was known that he was the AN's child and his car swerved and splashed onto the river. The car was recovered 3 years after the initial rescue, and barriers were put on LC river after that...
