Holy shit...the Silurian Hypothesis was correct...pre-human industrial civilizations, specifically a Saurian one, did indeed exist before the rise of Homo sapiens sapiens. And considering they were wiped out with air-busted nukes whose residue is temporary and that natural phenomena did the rest...

The sex ratio is 1:6 in favor of females, a ratio which is incredibly unequal. The cause of this is explained as the Y-chromosome being unusually small in nekos when compared to the human Y-chromosome. Some scientists believe that the Y-chromosome was shrinking even more before contact with humans and subsequent intermingling.

that judgement sounds overwhelmingly negative.

They are a libertarian socialist Jewish state located in saxony. They were initially a Marxist-Leninist Soviet ally, but split from the Warsaw Pact and took a neutral stance in a split that heavily mirrored the Tito-Stalin Split (Although it occurred a few years later). In the 70's, they began to drift toward libertarian eco-socialism.

All in all, one of the best factbooks I've ever read.

Feels a little national socialist minus the ethnic cleansing (and inherent racism, although all nationalism is at least a little racist) part.
