The realm of their supreme leader, known as the Garden, experiences a typical temperature range from 0 to 283 Kelvin, which is quite frankly, more than a little bit chilly.

September 23rd 2040... The then fledgling Anti-Gravity Racing Commission establishes a unified superstate to act as a gigantic test track for high speed AG racing in an effort to revive a bankrupt European Federation.

In 2241, we've taken that to another level. Behold the advent of governance through entertainment.

This nation has different anti-gravity teams and one of them is located on Mars.

Also, Russian team was once reformed by Medvedev family. Is that this Medvedev family I'm thinking of?)

AAAN: The Garden is a strange place to say the least. It is an isolated spacetime pocket "anchored" to a 20x20 meter space somewhere in Yangon, Earth. The Garden itself is subject to fluctuations in local physics, energy, and dimensionality though seems to have at least some limits as seen with the temperatures (at least the recorded ones) not dipping below absolute zero. The natural blue tint also implies that the color resulting from certain photon wavelengths can be freely altered without any adverse effects on "adjacent physics", either that or it is simply the human (or sometimes inhuman) perception of color that is affected. As space is constantly in a flux as a result of new objects and places being created or removed, there is no true way to map things in a traditional sense and any navigation is limited to marking one's rough position in relation to Holly's Treehouse.

AAN: Radiant Systems was one of the first, actually, the first AG team, developing AG technologies for commercial purposes. Even after a move from their origin country to Japan, they still retain a benevolent stance in regards to what they produce, hoping their AG tech can help benefit humanity as a whole.

Ninja'd

AN: Talers are Waisnor's unique type of currency. They come in both coins and banknotes with the former only going down to as low as intervals of 0.5 Talers but going as high as 5 Taler coins. The banknotes depict famous people of Waisnor and their works ranging from poets to Olympic champions to aircraft designers.

"Maximilian Joseph Synne and a collection of lesser-known Arms Manufacturing Executives, as well as a collection of engineers, military personnel, white-collar workers, and researchers, fled the continental US in the midst of the Vietnam War, in the year of 1961, with the intention of seceding from the US.

Is that the correct term here? They are forming their own state in another territory not part of the U.S. couldn't they have just declared their state whilst simultaneously renouncing their previous citizenship?"

The AN is a coty-state called Ark 12 that is ruled by 'MURICA. It is on what used to be the Galapagos. Furthermore, the user has great diction.

Their royalty has a weird fetish for long-ass official/regnal names. On a more serious note, a Republican Party currently dominates their parliamentary politics... which is weird. You'd think being republican would be unconstitutional in a monarchy.

Their Earth dwelling population were initially sent into the Oort Cloud on four different ships back in the 1970's by the European Confederation. Only one of them arrived on one of Olympus's satellite moons (which makes me rather curious regarding what exactly happened to the rest!)

The colonists quickly ended up in a state of civil war, which led to the eventual creation of the Commonwealth of Man.

Because of a migration from Africa, specifically speaking: Angola, in the 40's, in the commonwealth the languages that are considered official are Afrikaans , English , Maori , Dutch , and French.

QK had quite the history. They were conquered by the Mongols then colonized by Japan in the 1600s. Later conquered by Russia in 1700s in a humiliating ordeal against Japan. Later on, they become a Soviet SR in 1936 and in WWII, Japan unsuccessfully tried to invade them. Then in the 70s, Russia granted independence to QK as a neutral nation.

Pls Allah, grant me a good response.

Patagonia is heavily focused on Futurism. It is practically pasted in to their government, their military, their culture and their people..like..for every corner you see in their city..you can see vivid amounts of Futurist Influence..the Designs of their Buildings.....SO MUCH FUTURISM!

The United Australasian Commonwealth is governed as a hyper capitalist Cuba, complete with the mass adoption of 1950's culture and technology.

I learned that Great Britain, as a sovereign political entity actually survives in their timeline to late 22nd century, which is a cursed idea because even if there was to be no planetwide unified government, you'd think at least regional federations (i.e. all of Europe, etc.) would exist by that point.

Maguns Arnold's parents came from Danelaw and Norway.

Our nation is Poland, but there was a great Nazbol revolution, which overthrew the PZPR and freed Poland from USSR, in 1993. The Iron Curtain still exists, but it has changed its borders.

By the end of WWII, the human population was about 46 billion in number. Reduced to roughly more of a third than what it used to have. The Tohorinese would be puzzled as to why this is a bad thing. 46 billion is still an insanely large and claustrophobia-inducing number scattered around the globe and the stars.
