That's so specific lol...since it'd most likely be a child they'd be lightly reprimanded and then returned to their parent/guardian...

Well, first of all, all the people involved in this would lose their position immediately.

All cases, from each stakeholder, would be analyzed extensively so that each would receive a fair punishment for their level of involvement and command in this criminal scheme.

I can say that those who just obeyed orders or were afraid to object would get lighter sentences, probably 3 to 5 years in jail. Maybe it could be exchanged for a hefty fine and community service for 2 years.

Now the masterminds, those who created this entire espionage network, would have a different and special treatment. Hard and severe penalties would be compliments for what they will suffer, in Merulla your privacy is taken seriously! Depending on what was done with this stolen information, they could be sentenced to 30 years in prison, with no chance of appeal or sentence reduction, even life in prison with the right to public corporal punishment, public flogging, in other words.

Merulla is the land of the brave, the fair and of the heroes.

I mean, if the audience is chanting during the speech, then that's fine. But if they interrupt the speaker a couple of times, then they are asked to leave.
