Just watched some awesome Gambian music player for $5 in a town of 150 people 15 minutes from where I live, who has worked with Philip Glass and Kronos Quartet, which made me want to listen to the one Kronos Quartet song I know.

Kronos Quartet-Flugufrelsarinn (Sigur Ros Cover)

Amazing cover. Might even say it is better then Sigur Ros' version.

I mean, we can actually create a mathematical definition for evolution in terms of the evolutionary algorithm and then write code to deal with abstract instances of evolution, which basically equates to mathematical proof that evolution works. All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.
