The default sentence for robbing a bank would be two years in prison and eighty days community service, but this would half if anyone had the swagger and panache to try and replace their gun with a banana.

As an independent free-lance individual who got caught before murdering a victim, 5-15 years hard labor, remanded to a sanitarium until determined no longer a danger. As someone who has murdered, Death Penalty. Running an agency of assassins, Death Penalty.

Setting oneself on fire just enough to not get badly injured but noticeable enough to get the fire department to show up and put the person out (for that person's social media channel)?
