“Cadonica wrote:

Well, I mostly play games where I can turn the game's own volume down (TF2, The Sims 2, AoE III) and keep music playing on the background. And as I said, I'll listen my whole library through, so there will be long, long periods where my posts are from the same band with different song.

I was playing on the PS3, which makes listening to music at the same time more difficult from my computer.

Also, I completely lose focus on what I'm listening to if I get distracted too much anyway, so then I'd like listen to an entire album but I zoned it out entirely.
