OFFICE OF THE PREMIER

Regarding Major-General Kerry of NATO,

To be quite frank, I care little for the imperialist endeavours of NATO, even into the interstellar states. Throughout the history of Quebec, the Quebecois have always vouched against involvement with NATO, and their wish is my occupation. Even if NATO were to conquer the stars, nevermind Stratis, Quebec would enter the new space age and the challenges it brings, alone, without NATO to dictate their terms. And certainly without the leadership of Major-General Kerry.

OFFICE OF THE PREMIER

Regarding Matthieu XV de Alpeia, Empereur-Roi of the Alpes a Septentrionali Imperium

Quebec has always been fond of the French Monarchy. Once we ascended from provincehood, the nation has been severly lacking a 'father figure' of sorts, a honourable bearer of the Crown who would teach and foster the nation in it's time of strife as did

King Henri IV.

As far I am concerned, a Premier could only tell his nation what to think, what to feel, what to say, and when to say it. My counterpart through Empereur-Roi Matthieu XV (God bless his name), has accomplished more then when I ever will atop the Alpeian Kingdom

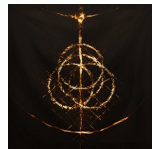

New-Quebec may not have the father figure New France had, but if we were ever to return home for God, King and Country, I would trust in the Alpes.

"A griffin king? Are you trying to convince me that a mythical creature rules over a massive kingdom director? Uhhh. Well, let's see what I think about this mythical creature than, it's just simply another warlord conquer. Like the Mongol khans of old. He doesn't have the respect or claims of an old and powerful family, but rather the right of conquest and admiration of the other competing warlords. But other than that I find it to be an easily swayable and vengeful creature, wishing for the impossible and blood with its armies. And it's crimes against man, oh how unforgivable" -Mathieu XV

"And just when I thought the concept of a monarchy couldn't get any more repulsive, I am met with not one but two joint monarchs. It seems like the universe enjoys torturing me whenever I let my guard down. Double the Queens! Double the trouble!

But enough bias, let me properly judge your rule. I certainly admire the fact that you're caring for the weak of society rather than purging them. Most definitely improves my opinion of you two. I have no qualms with your economic policies so long as the end of the day, your people are content and have their dignity upheld. I am not one to go around and tell people how their economy should or should not be organized.

However, one thing that I cannot ignore is the fact that you resort to violence when it comes to dealing with political dissidence is extremely shameful. Here's a quick lesson, the more you clench your fist while carrying water, the more it seeps from in between your fingers. You have been warned.

And come on ladies, men aren't brutes! Not always at least. I don't understand why you would even hold such a low opinion of them in the first place." - Countess Ambrosia Von Carstein

"The Lady of Carstein is a mystery to me. Not because of her hatred of civilization and good order -no, that I can easily understand; a bloodsucking lich with no affinity to religion would become nothing else- but her insistence on appropriating the Long-standing Tradition of monarchy by granting herself the title of Gravin will ever make me raise an eyebrow."

Oh, Tanner again? Hm. I have perhaps already said my piece regarding him, wishing him a good recovery from his accident, and now here I am looking into a mind gone mad, and even madder as it seems his partner in crime so to speak. Tobias has manifested as an unidentified female, which I'll take it as his wife, ex-wife perhaps? Regarding the comment of "babe," I am intrigued to see what develops next as his mind brings up fragments of his past.

Rapture City

- In the underwater city, two roles have emerged from the City's ongoing civil war: the City Monitors who defend the peace and the Red Caps who fight against unjust systems. The city's infrastructure is crumbling under its own weight and kinship is snuffed by the paranoia of totalitarianism. Yet the people would be in for a surprise as their virtual overlord have died many years ago as the oppression continues under his name...
- Not an 1-1 exact replica of Bioshock lore and Rapture City. Only the city's atmosphere and setting is maintained.

OOC: it's pretty much the opposite, Tanner shifted into a random policewoman, and the partner of the female officer is in an affair with her. In my next posts you'll see why this shifting encounter is crucial in my depiction of Driver: SF.
