It looks like the country is in the midst of a nuclear Cold War. War rooms and missile trackers play an important role in assessing current danger levels and preparing the country for the possibility of nuclear Armageddon. Very much Dr. Strangelove vibes.

Seems to be a pretty quiet and low tech place. Probably the majority of people still work in agriculture, and the government is likely either still a system of feudal lords or gilded-era republicanism with all the rife corruption and dirty politics of the age.
