I mean, we can actually create a mathematical definition for evolution in terms of the evolutionary algorithm and then write code to deal with abstract instances of evolution, which basically equates to mathematical proof that evolution works. All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.

Final War - Senseless Violence

*It's a senseless act of violence
no real point just in the mood to fight
out on the town stirrin' up some shit
stay out of our way cause were comin' for you tonight!*

Never watched that show, but it always reminds of the song "Please Mr. Postman" or vice versa, because of that British vibe.
