"For I was hungry and you gave me something to eat; I was thirsty and you gave me something to drink; I was a stranger and you invited me in; I needed clothes and you clothed me; I was sick and you looked after me; I was in prison and you came to visit me... I just got into 65daysofstatic recently too. I loved the like, drum n bass and Post-Rock mix some of their songs seemed to have.

I also just got into Pg.Lost based on someone saying it was post-rock here, since my favorite genre of music is post-rock. Or at least it's my favorite genre of rock.

I need to listen to more This Will Destroy You, If These Tree's Could Talk, and Godspeed You! Black Emperor. I haven't listened to much of the last 2 because they aren't on Spotify, so it's harder to search for them (well, there's some Godspeed You, but not much). God is an Astronaut I really like too, but I still need to listen to them more too. I suggest For A Minor Reflection (Especially Sjaumst I Virginiu}, The Ascent of Everest (especially Return To Us), The Evpatoria Report {Especially Eighteen Robin's Road}, Hammock, though they are definitely ambient post-rock, Explosions in the Sky (Especially Memorial), and Sigur Ros (Especially untitled ☐ if you haven't already. I'm checking out Caspian now.

Sigur Ros-Hun Joro

One of the few oldest Sigur Ros songs I've listened to more then a few times, and actually liked. Their first album is probably my least favorite, but I wouldn't say it's technically bad. This song at parts for some reason reminds me of a System of a Down song. Also, I can tell their first album was the lowest quality (except for like one song)
