I mean, we can actually create a mathematical definition for evolution in terms of the evolutionary algorithm and then write code to deal with abstract instances of evolution, which basically equates to mathematical proof that evolution works. All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.

Sleepytime Gorilla Museum-The Creature

This song is pretty much a metaphor for how society is now, described in a very unique way.

The creature has enslaved our town
But no one thinks to bring it down
Provided with so much distraction
The people can't be moved to action~

The creature tells of evil gnomes
Coming to destroy our homes
And trolls who come with gun and knife
To threaten our way of life~

There is a creature
That has to feed
It stops at nothing
To fill its need~

The people live in gruesome squawler (Can't figure out how to spell the last word)
So that the creature may grow taller
Those with nothing have to bleed
To help the creature spread its seed

They learn to dine on fecal matter
So that the creature may grow fatter~

Sleepytime Gorilla Museum-Cockroach

Oh loathsome crawling thing
Be damned
With your minuscule affairs
Oh hungry, creeping speck
I release you
From your cares
Begone
ROACH!
You live on carrying
That's outrageous
You're probably contagious
Blind, crippled, and half squashed
And yet you carry on.
Your persistence is disgusting
I could never find myself trusting
A creature that would rather live in the trash than in the lawn
Cockroach
Your problems are not mine
I love life
But if I were you I'd draw the line
Not to flaunt my superior design
But next to you I'm practically divine
