Norteaqua begins construction of an offshore windfarm

Though I far more favour a pro nuclear energy agenda and the construction of nuclear power plants, a wind farm is still a worthwhile investment so long more research continues to be pumped into it so it becomes cheaper and more efficient than current technology. Same with solar power.

The United Kingdom following a palingenetic social nationalist takeover - potentially with Shadowrun elements.

Vers not making another British alt-his that would be replaced in the near future with a similar concept challenge - impossible

Jk but I have never heard of Shadowrun
