"I wonder, how would our negotiations go? Stan Dixon went to negotiate with him and others on their summit, and I have yet to receive a report. For some reason, he is willing to cooperate, despite our fundamental differences in approach, which is curious... I will cooperate, but ain't gonna entirely rely on Mercer, just in case he doesn't like some of our missions to make the world a better place. Dude can say whatever he wants about idealism, but he is also idealist in his own way. I mean, if he was more pragmatic during civil war, he wouldn't have taken the risk to fix this city, he would have fled Rapture on a stolen batysphere and find a way to become some person of authority in some other, more stable country. And yet, he fought against Ryan, risked everything, won, and rebuilt the underwater city and its society according to his vision. And did a damn good job, since they are competent enough to maintain an underwater city with hellish pressure and also make it more self-sustainable. Still, wouldn't wanna live there... I prefer freedom to strict order.

Also, Stan sent me a photo of Rapture propaganda. Ryan made a funny goblin! Was that Mercer's idea? To depict this hypocritical darwinist as goblin? If so, Mercer got some nice sense of humor. If not... either way, we both agree, that Andrew Ryan's leadership was... less than optimal." -Shawn Bjornson

I have read through it, I know you have other nicknames, so if you would like me to use one of the others, please do let me know! Other than that, let's get started. First and foremost, you are definitely impressive in the height department, even if you are considered a "manlet". A 7' 2" height is pretty dam impressive, outside of Valentine Z, of course. You all know about us, hehe. Anyway, that is not to mock or belittle you all. You have a whole lot of accomplishments by yourself, many of which I am a little taken aback if I am to be honest. Going through the school through sheer gangsterism, bribing other students, disproportionate retributions... it's all fascinating, but at the same time, the outcomes could have been better. The Personality bit is conflicting with what you have gone through as a kid, but hey, then again, we have done more absurd things as kids, so I might just be a little too overly judgemental, so I apologise. Overall, your past aside - and trust me, I had quite a time reading through it, including the bits about fire magic, to collecting skulls of your enemies - you are generally an amicable person that I think many can emulate some aspects. Like punching the hell out of pedophiles - I can definitely root for that! You might want to mix honey and smoking more often, I heard they go along well.

The Supreme Leader, Zevqir

OH WHO DO WE HAVE HERE! ANOTHER ALIEN! According to this you were always devoted to god. What do you mean with god? Don't you mean gods, does your useless species only have one god. Its that why you killed ours in the glory days of Ultra-Galactica, so you can have more gods then us. Then you saw how occupying troops invading your country killed your own people. You then enlisted in their navy? Why? Are such a massive coward that you immediatly submitted to your occupiers. Maybe I shouldn't expect any bravery from aliens like you. Then WW1, whatever that means, you bombed the French, whoever these are, in Catalonia, where-ever that is. Then WW2 happens, which I assume is another big war. You were apparantly a war hero, which might make capturing you for sacrifice a bit more challenging, unless I decide to just shoot you. Then some insurgency happened in your homeland, and you helped the occupiers. You are a disgrace to your own people.

So after that happened, you were elected as VP for the "FET-JONS"? Okay? But you did not get along very well with the president because of your "obsession with the navy and god." Sometimes people say that about me. Then you were appointed as the head of the space program where you get to send your pathetic chemical rockets into space while we sail the stars with our fleets designed by our gods themselves. After the president died, you became the president. As president, you did really well in the space race apperantly. But then you failed in some place called Vietnam, because unlike one of your superior successors, you didn't had it in you to use nukes. The only thing I have to say is that you are a failure and so are your species. However, you are perfect for the sacrificial hammer.

"This creature, this thing, this alien! I've seen it running amuck around this multiverse and it greatly displeases me. The way it states the obviously difference in species is unnerving as of course, everyone is an alien to some extent, it comes off an xenophobic and discriminatory towards everyone but your own kind. All because we killed your gods, or someone much like us did in the past. You just feel the need to pin it on all the ones that look the part right?

Its sickening, have you ever questioned your morals? Even we do from time to time and I strongly advise you to do the same. To stop your grieving, to stop your hatred, you must learn to set aside the past and better your people as to not further plunge them into the darkness.

I say this, even if my words fall on deaf ears.

And I'll even admit, I strongly dislike you from our first encounter, and if your species is anything like you I fully understand why fate has done your people so wrong.

As for your words of meddling with my immortality, I could give you the secret that keeps me ticking, because even if didn't have it I could still take you on. You lack honor in your word, you seem more fearful, driven by hate, this is one of the few times I've ever seen your species and I already know how I feel about them.

As for your final concern, my cybernetics are lowbloodian, if you wanted some I could hook you up, you ever want an arm that can be used to hide a sword, a middle launcher or even a flamethrower I mean technology is vary dangerous. But it helps.

And no it's not the product of some silly gods."-Luden

Well this is (chokes) horrifying. Just give me a minute to er...regain my composure. (Pauses, exhales) Okay, I should be fine now, but I'd be lying if I said I wasn't uncomfortable. It's hard to believe this was anything resembling a human at all at some point. I imagine being a prisoner of war changes a person both visually and psychologically, and while I'll never condone murder, what could any reasonable person do when it's fight or die? I won't pretend to understand the research those doctors so desperately wanted to extract from Luden, but forced experimentation is unforgivable, and they really should've expected the response they were greeted with after the so-called breakout. To be entirely frank, Luden's goals are a bit...hyperbolic, for the lack of a better word. Regardless, he's taking care of his PR concerns fairly aggressively, which is a good sign, and it doesn't hurt to explore the expansion of agricultural land either, although I can't be sure whether this man is even capable of eating solid food to begin with. The Brett Easton Ellis style parade of decadently wacky weaponry might be a bit intense, to say the least, but given his immortality I'm led to believe this is more of a hobbyist collection that collects more dust than blood, but I wouldn't take any chances. This fellow is dangerous, and I, sure as the sun, wouldn't want to agitate him"

Inogo Estime: Contrary to popular belief, I'm not against foreign intervention in the name of democracy. It's just that the one country I know that happens to do foreign intervention in the name of democracy and human rights screws it up all the time, either by completely failing to rebuild and stabilize the country, instilling a military dictatorship instead, or stealing their natural resources. The thing is, you actually know how to do a foreign intervention to instill democracy and human rights. What you did to the people of the DPRK and the middle east is nothing short of admirable.

Another thing worth considering is that you're actually a libertarian. I refuse to call classical libertarians. You know, the whole government and taxes bad except if it's police and military spending libertarians to be actual libertarians. In practice, their system ends up becoming feudalism. Your social programs actually make a free society instead of a degenerate one so congratulations for being enlightened. Here's a tip for you. Get a secretary. No, don't take that out of context, I do mean a secretary for doing all your paperwork. Not the other, less holy function of a secretary.

This brings me to spirituality in which case I appreciate how you are spiritual. Sure we may have different faiths but from my experience, being spiritual is correlated to better mental wellbeing. Anyway, I really only have good things to say on you, keep it up. You’re just threatened by a woman who earned her way to the top by killing the idiot who ruled before her, and can kill you with the same effort it takes to open a bottle of jam. I’d happily burn your ‘god’ to the ground and do the same to you. Your country can do better than you, and I hope it takes initiative on the matter.” -Cala Azzakrat Deep Kraken, miming wrapping a garrote around an enemy’s neck

Godulan Puppet #2, RPing as technologically advanced tribal society founded by mongols and vikings (and later with multiple other Asian and Native American cultures) motivated by an intrinsic devotion to the spirit of competition. They'll walk softly, talk softly, and make soothing noises as they stab you in the back and take your stuff... unless you're another Caleshan, whereupon they'll only stab you in the back figuratively!

Used NS stats: Population. That's it. Anything else not stated in the factbooks is not used.

Atkhal Daishin: What did your enemies do to deserve becoming your enemies and getting strangled by a chain... at least that's what I found to be the definition of "garrote." Damn you futuristic mongol vikings have better english than me.

Anyway, Kraken I can't comprehend how you are the leader of a space-age pirate clan and also have enough time to raise 4 children. You're really are the strong independent woman stereotype which is nice. Though some conservative members of our world don't have nice things to say about that kind to people since it ruins "family values." Bloody preachy self-entitled twits.

However, I like you in a way. You're an egalitarian. You treat your clan as a comrade in arms as we would call it, a family, a friendship. You're competent, a strong leader though mildly bloodthirsty to say the least. Your daughter stabbed a shark just after her 7th birthday? What a chad. You and your children might want to talk to Inogo, he killed his landlord, literally. Hey he could be your husband.

Inogo Estima: The fuck? Hell no I'm not marrying you. But can you teach me the art of Galeshar? Might be useful if the radical Marxists decide that free internet is imperialism. Also, you might enjoy your time in one of Sherechia's many public executions. Socialism is just more organized wealth redistribution after all... turns out organization does not prevent bloodshed. Might as well turn Sherechia into a pirate state.

"Well, it's been a while since I've been here. Let's see, what do we have here?"

Well well well, Westmoreland is a pretty interesting case, I have to say. So he was seen as a bit of paternalistic sociopath who puts the number of dead Nazi's over the lives of American troops and Africans. Well, reading into this it's only partially true when it comes to dead Nazi's. Which I totally agree with, honestly. The only good fascist is a dead fascist after all.

However, the other things aren't accurate at all. Well yes, he was a bit paternalistic at first, but I see that he gained a lot of respect for Africans after witnessing them fighting for their freedom. I can support the fact he wants to improve the parts of Africa he has under control before he leaves it for the Africans to govern. Also, apparently he doesn't like, although that's a massive understatement, flashy uniforms. Honestly, as a middle class child I somewhat share his sentiment about the things some rich pricks wear.

Honestly, I think Westmoreland is a respectable and capable leader. I wish him good luck in his good fight against the Nazi scum. It's honestly quite assuring that even if the nazi were to win the war, there'd still be people willing to fight for freedom."
