Secret Chiefs 3-Halloween \(Book of Souls Version\)

New version Secret Chiefs 3 released of their cover of an old 80's horror movie theme song for their new album, today, on Halloween. They also just started shipping albums to people who pre-ordered, too. Seems like a good time to do it.

This album could easily be an album of the year, because Secret Chiefs 3, in my mind, is easily one of the greatest bands I've heard.

Charles Mingus - Track 4 of The Black Saint and the Sinner Lady

To long of a track name to post.

You can do it!

The longest track name I can think of is And By Our Own Hand Did Every Last Bird Lie Silent in Their Puddles, The Air Barren of Song as the Clouds Drifted Away. For Killing Their Greatest Enemy, the Locusts Noisily Thanked Us and Turned Their Jaws Toward Our Crops, Swallowing Our Greed Whole by Red Sparowes. They have a lot of interesting, really ridiculously long song names.

Sainkho Namtchylak-Violet Silver

Alright then, here we go:

Charles Mingus - Mode D – Trio and Group Dancers; Stop! Look! And Sing Songs of Revolutions!, Mode E – Single Solos and Group Dance; Saint and Sinner Join in Merriment on Battle Front, Mode F – Group and Solo Dance; Of Love, Pain, and Passioned Revolt, then Farewell, My Beloved, 'til It's Freedom Day

Compared to what I'm listening now this is hella long.

Tortoise - DJed

I mean, we can actually create a mathematical definition for evolution in terms of the evolutionary algorithm and then write code to deal with abstract instances of evolution, which basically equates to mathematical proof that evolution works. All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.
