Shostakovich - Symphony No. 9 In E Flat Major, Op. 70

I mean, we can actually create a mathematical definition for evolution in terms of the evolutionary algorithm and then write code to deal with abstract instances of evolution, which basically equates to mathematical proof that evolution works. All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.

Linkin' Park is kinda okay I guess. I love their Rolling in the Deep cover though.

Other bands I think could possibly reconsider their band names are Goo Goo Dolls (Random), Limp Bizkit (just... no), and, of course, The The (for being ridiculously hard to pronounce for non-native speakers and being pretty un-Googleable)

Born to be Wild - Steppenwolf, btw

Actually, I was pleasantly surprised by their Rolling in the Deep cover.

My dad actually finds The The name kind of hilarious. Maybe it's picking on all the "The" bands, which half the time I find to be pretty silly too. Like "The Rakes", and "The Subways". Really? There's a lot of The band names I could throw out if I thought about them.
