Parliment split in two for the first time ever as a result of the Hamas attack on Israel

I'll be honest, that just seems impractical. How much taxpayer money do you think it cost to do such extensive remodeling on the Parliament building so that it could be divided in half like that? How was it measured? Now that it's been cut in half, how does the building not have weather-related issues? What about if it rains? Does half of Parliament show up to one half of the building and the other to the other half?

From there, they've created a rudimentary small-scale society, based on barter, Coke consumption and firearms.
