A Worker on the Manastan Working colony detects a Strange disturbance in Universal Stability in a nearby star system, however does not report it. Meanwhile, Union Boss man and his commune thingy gets rewarded with the whole of the Inor System.

Inor-a is a Sun like star however slightly smaller. Inor-b is a hot world rich in materials, and barely habitable. Inor-c is a Frigid venus sized planet, rich in oil, however does not have a breathable atmosphere. Inor-c I is a tiny moon, it has significant Iron Presence. And Inor-d is a Frigid dwarf planet.

Union Boss man begins sending probes to Survey Inor-c I

The sun burns workers from hydrogen and union boss man check to see if they were back by phone and they didn't respond to his message, so he went to the Inor system and he got to close to the sun and burned up.

Feeling depressed after being elected from office. Man returns home, plastered after a night of drinking, he exits his car, and as the rain patterns against the sidewalk, he makes his way to his home. He enters, and sighs. Thinking for a moment, Man decides it is time, he enters his home office, he pulls open a drawer, and as he sighs for the last time, a resounding bang can be heard from that poor, lonely Man's home.

New Man. (Let's make the next rendition more positive! I just wanted to have a new style of events happen in this instance. I hope it isn't too depressing!)

New Man becomes governor of texas, due to being the only living candidate.
He soon gets investigated by the F.B.I., he is found guilty of Voter Fraud, and is discharged as governer, man moves back to his house and begins drinking.
