i'm not actually listening, but there is probably something playing on my drive.

drifting into obscurity (mephitis x2 mix) by vision tech (or by mephitis x2 mix, from vision tech. windows media player is a bit ambiguous as to which, and i certainly don't keep track of all that by memory. either way, it is almost certainly an original work by the person who posted it. as is just about everything i listen to) this is being followed by something called helpless little boy by jxn (who does u.t.a.u. stuff)

The Black Keys-I Cry Alone

I think after I go through all of these bands, I might clear out the ones I find the 'least interesting', and will likely never listen to much again, just for the sake of making my playlists a BIT smaller then they are. Not in a hurry to do so, though. Right now it works fine.

Not bad, but still in that style I have a hard time liking.

I only listened to one Solstafir album, so the one I listened to might be quite a bit different then a lot of their.

In fact, I listened briefly to their new album and it didn't really appeal to me all that much, because it was a change that I just didn't personally get into.

Boris-Flood

70 minute song, which is pretty much the entire album. Though on the album it is split into 4 parts.

Going to sleep to this.
