Hello, Lady ThlKK A Lot, it's me. Andrew Mercer, your friendly totally won't try to sell you to the cartels when you are not looking, businessman. I just wanted to come back and say, that the massacre was beautiful. I managed to magically find footage of it, somehow, given your timeline. I plan to make copies and sell as a specialty for the customers buying Wonder Armaments to just keep themselves occupied while waiting for their target to come out of the woodwork. Also, Thickkens, I was wondering if I could see some of my colleagues, selected by merit, of course, to receive training by your people. I'm thinking of establishing a private military and police for WonderTech to save costs on hiring mercenaries to take out my rivals who unfortunately will never learn their lessons no matter the most freak up things I do. If not, that's fine. You are busy with the war and all, I have other potentials in mind to get them the training they'll need to be my fabulous murdering crones...

That's cute, and exploitable as she has no strong leaders to enact what they believe in. It will be my greatest advantage in subjecting the Portuguese Market to my will. Those that she thought she trusted will be my puppets to see her government populated by those who will allow WonderTech do as it pleases. Heh heh. But maybe that won't need to happen, she could be put under my wing, once she sees how better off the country will be if it sold its resources and economic independence to me, sounds likely. I know but if Isabella did, it would save me the costs of getting my hands red again. Otherwise, her policy regarding immigration and healthcare are good in my eyes. I hate having cheap labour and especially labour with poor health it causes a drop in quality of a product that is meant to be sold to the consumers.

But what separates me from this, thing, among many things, was my long ago desire for something more, apart from mere money-making. I craved power, and took it for my self. I alone turned a galaxy in utter disarray into one of order and stability. While this Andrew is solely concerned with profits, which are

Surely, if he had any more intelligence than the street thug he grew up as, he would know that a few client states ruled by what little loyalists he has would allow him to rule over the area more strictly without having to leave the mainland. Opinion on Enzo Cassaro

Status: Not Classified, for public's eye, if necessary

It seems, that this Duce intends his Empire to rival his timeline's USA, and China in terms of power. In my opinion, it is only wishful thinking at best. I know, how hard it was to take down the RNGOC - that dragon is enormous, and easily could beat most of the old world's nations. Italy, however, needs to mind its place, as not even Germans could challenge the Bear's claws, and as far as I am aware, Italy during WW2 was even more incompetent than the Germans. Not sure, how strong is this timeline's Italy, but I wouldn't place my bets high.

His political views are pretty standard for a fascism - being against liberals, communists, multiculturalists, separatists, and so on. However, it is surprising to meet an one, who is also against anti-vaxxers, theocracy, capitalism, and nazis - usually most of far-right sinks in the previously mentioned degeneracy, and regress back to time. I also see, that he supports futurism - let's hope, that he at least doesn't support smashing valuable museum artefacts, or any other historical values. Overall, someone I could at least partially agree with, but while he is against separatism, he also seems to hold to his Italian nationalism, and the King as well - not sure, how useful he would be for a pan-human, jacobin republican nationalism.

At this point, I don't even need to read the intel about him anymore, as the things there will be pretty much the same, with a few minor changes. I bet, that you are just a temporary star as well, and will be thrown into trashbin, once a new double appears. In fact, what happened to the Archon, hmm? I still remember that bastard.

Anyways, while his disdain towards furies, xenos, and so called "species traitors" on their own aren't anything bad, he must understand, that he is walking on a thin ice. You are in the same room with persons like that Afrikaner Pieter in this case, you are with me, you are with nazis you claim so much to hate. Distaste against xenos and those furred freaks is a fascist position by default. Windigo would be sure to hang those "enlightened democrats" with a rope to the nearest trees - while he isn't too sympathetic to xenos, he can't stand xenophobia, and would rather pick a dictator, who would fend off people like this Roman wannabe. So much for "democracy", huh? Just turn into a totalitarian already - his views would be way more coherent then.

Huh, Mercer is a shortie, not gonna lie. However, his immense strength and speed compensate for that, not even talking about his immortality achieved from some potion. Almost as if he's OP.

As for his politics... He has weird obsession with sovereignty. Not saying, that it is entirely bad, but he could use that power to make the surface dwellers bend their knees, and perhaps lead humanity under a single hand. After all, showing those globalists who is the boss in such way would be pretty ironic.
