I've felt kinda like crap, so I went to go to sleep...I try and go to sleep, and fail at sleeping properly. And I didn't even want to go to bed, either, which doesn't exactly help. But I didn't want to be awake, either.

Gah, one of those fun nights.

And bug on my screen, I'm trying to use my computer, thanks.

Though it's not healthy, I listen to music when I can't sleep. It doesn't help me sleep, but it's better than sitting and waiting.

If there's one thing that gets on my nerves, it's pointlessly laying in my bed for hours when I can't sleep. So if I can't sleep for like, an hour, and sometimes only like half an hour, I just go 'Screw it" and get up anyway. If I can't sleep, it feels pointless to just lay there, doing nothing. It just gets on my nerves for some reason. Probably because I get restless if I just lay in bed doing nothing at all.

Same deal if I sleep and wake up like 4 or 5 times in 4 hours. I just go "F it" and get up, instead of pointlessly wasting my time laying in bed.

I actually have that kind of attitude to sleep, period. If I'm sleeping for 12 hours, or even 10, I feel like I'm pointlessly wasting hours of my day away (Which you kinda are, because oversleeping just makes you sleepier, but sometimes 10 to 12 hours of sleep feels niiice). Even if what I do instead of sleeping is..wasting those hours way doing things like listening to music

I have the exact same attitude, but I can't actually do any of that because I have parents who wouldn't like to see me waking up in the middle of the night. \Box

My parents really don't care.

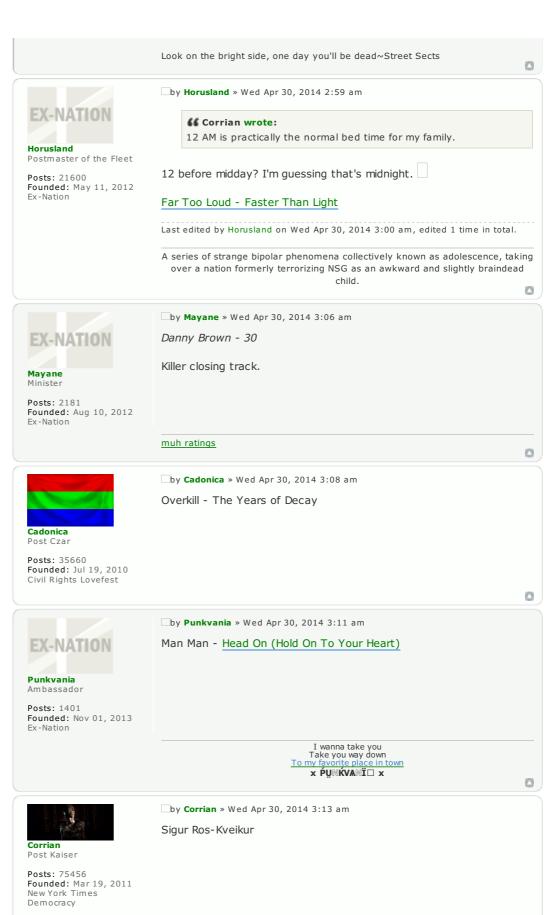

Considering it's 2:30 AM and my moms still up...

And my dad stays up to 2 AM sometimes...on work days.

12 AM is practically the normal bed time for my family.
