All that remains is to show that biological systems replicate in such a way as to satisfy the minimal criteria required for evolution to apply to them, something which has already been adequately shown time and again. At this point, we've pretty much proven that not only can evolution happen, it pretty much must happen since it's basically impossible to prevent it from happening.

I have Contractor by Lamb Of God running through my head, particularly the drum-breakdown.

this entire fucking battlefield, weakling

very dramatic

we, unlike the bourgeoisie, have nothing to lose and therefore our expression will be the only honest one, our words will be the only challenging ones and our art will be the one revolutionary expression. We need new noise and new voices and new canvases to become something more than the last poets of a useless generation.

Same song, cause you recommended it to me. Pretty sweet, gracias hermano.

If nothing exists, where did this anger come from?

I saw a drum cover of that song, and I have to give Alex some credit for keeping a solid double-note throughout the song. Not a double-bass with the thrumming 300 BPM, but a double-note on the bass.

It simply blew my mind. This is coming from a drummer.

I probably could find others later.

I really want a drum set some day. For whatever reason, I've been really in the mood to play drums. Before I was leaning towards guitar, but I dunno anymore. I suck at drum beats though.

I've been doing so for seven years, and only recently have I found out about Jared Falk and Dave Atkinson, two free online-drummers. I am deep into heavy, fast and rhythmic beats like what As I Lay Dying does or Lamb Of God with Chris Adlers heel-toe and solid groove beats. I'm developing my heel-toe technique, and starting to learn the flat-foot to conserve energy and exceed 220BPM.
