Monkey 4758 was the leader in a government conspiracy which involved some overthrowing and communism establishment. After about three years, the government caught on, and the members were hunted down. As 4758 had seen this coming, he already had multiple hidey holes for a situation just like this. But, as time went on, his refuges were discovered one by one. He became more nervous over time, as his places of safety were dwindling to a small number. He eventually decided to get a new identity, and he moved into Great Britain as Monkey 1001. As he was never found, the government said he was killed and left it at that. But 4758 is still watching…and waiting.

Monkey 4753 died of starvation because all of the people who could sell him food simply said "I'm not going to buy that skooma off of you" and kicked him out.

People tend to assume that Entrance of the Gladiators by Julius Fučík is what that ever so famous circus clown theme is. And in a way, it is. Nobody would ever argue with you on this fact.
However, if you want to be an unlikable, pedantic jerk, the song actually known to be circus music would be a version composed for American woodwind bands (and later transcribed for fairground organs) titled Thunder and Blazes, published by Louis-Philippe Laurendeau.
Of course, this information is of absolutely no consequence to anyone.

Ithallians are the definition of unconquerable. They are bound by a brotherhood that can only be forged in a war, for Ithallians, all of them, know the cost of freedom. As long as you respect them and are faithful in your dealings with them, Ithallians will treat you like a member of that family. If not...they don't tend to leave survivors...

While 4745 successfully distracted the zombies, 4744 was allergic to zombies and died from inflammation-induced asphyxiation.
