6504 was watching the incident involving 6505, 6506, 6507 and 6508, shaking his head in dismay. He got up to leave, tripped on his own untied shoelace, fell and hit his head on a table and died of a brain hemorrhage.

6503 was shot 17 times in a police shootout after it was discovered that he pushed his friend into a fan and caused the deaths of 5 civilians. He claimed he was acting under orders from 6502, though this was not proven.

Monkey 6493 tried to figure out the chain of circumstances that had killed so many of his colleagues and got so confused that he forgot to eat or drink anything. He fainted from severe dehydration and nobody found him until it was too late.

Monkey 6492 fell from a tree, slipped on a banana peel, rolled down a hill into a river, was dragged downstream into the jaws of a shark, got blown up by illegal blast fishers, and was finally ripped up by stray machine gun fire when a government helicopter located the fishing boat.

Monkey 6940 claimed that 6941's trrip to the moon was a hoax. He died in a poorly-designed experiment trying to prove that flags don't move when there's no air.

He walked into a paraellel dimension right before that, so he didn't affect any of the other monkeys.

Monkey 6937 was stuck in an elevator with a person who kept on farting. Let's just say the ventilation shafts didn't work.
